

WEDDINGS INTEREST SOCIETY

Miss Dorsey
Is Wedded To
C. B. Calvert

Miss Lucy Harrison Dorsey, daughter of the late Charles Worthington Dorsey, of Front Royal, Va., was married yesterday afternoon to Charles Baltimore Calvert, son of the late Charles Baltimore Calvert, of MacAlpine, near College Park, Md.

The ceremony was performed in St. John's Episcopal Church at 5:30 o'clock by the Rev. Alan Castleman, of Elk Ridge, Md., cousin of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Edward Dunlap, assistant rector of St. John's. The church was appropriately decorated with white flowers and foliage, making a pretty setting for the ceremony.

The bride's only attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Rosalie E. S. Calvert, and the best man was Richard Peyton Whiteley, of Hyattsville, Md. The ushers were George H. Calvert, Jr., brother of the bridegroom; Richard Roberts, of New York, formerly of Gaymont, Prince George county, Md.; Dr. Sotheron Key, and Frank Sprigg Perry, both of this city.

Wears Family Heirlooms.

The bride entered the church with her cousin, Louis Dorsey Gassaway, of Annapolis, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of ivory princess satin trimmed with ancestral lace. Her veil of tulle was held with orange blossoms and a sunburst of pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornaments were a necklace of rare old pearls, and two brooches, more than a century and a half old, heirlooms in her mother's family.

Miss Calvert, the maid of honor, wore white silk, with a picture hat of white tulle, and carried blush roses.

To Visit Seaside Resort.

Because of the mourning of the bridegroom's family for his father, there was no reception afterward, but the family partook of a wedding supper in the apartment of the bride's mother in the Imperial, after which Mr. Calvert and his bride went on a short wedding trip to one of the quiet seaside resorts. They will make their home with his mother in the family country place, "MacAlpine," near College Park, where the family have lived for many years. The bridegroom is descended from the famous Lord Baltimore and Eleanor Calvert. He is closely connected with the Worthingtons, MacKubins, and other prominent families of Maryland.

The bride is descended from the Otho Williams family, the Harrisons, and Carters of Chirley, on the James river, the Stuarts, Castleman, and Howards of Virginia. Among the wedding gifts were the family pearls from the bride's mother, and the enormous case of Calvert silver from the bridegroom's mother.

House Guests for Wedding.

Among the house guests for the wedding were the bride's aunts, the Misses Virginia and Carrie Dorsey, of Front Royal, Va.; the Rev. Alan Castleman, and Mrs. Castleman, of Elkridge, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dorsey Gassaway, of Annapolis, and Miss Emilie Lawrence Reed, daughter of the late Dr. Walter Reed, U. S. A., who came from her mother's Blue Ridge mountain home in Pennsylvania.

Among those invited from out-of-town, many of whom were present, were Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Brooks, of Simpson, Miss White, Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Olmstead, Miss Maria Sprigg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Works-Brooks Wedding.

Miss Eva Brooks, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. V. Brooks, and Henry Alfred Works, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 455 Florida avenue northwest, the Rev. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Gunton Temple Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Miss Marie Johnston, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding music for the entrance of the bridal party. The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chine, made princess with a hand-embroidered yoke, and elaborately trimmed with lace and ribbon. Her long tulle veil was caught to her hair with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary E. Johnston, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bride's only attendant. She wore a dainty gown of pale pink crepe de chine and carried Bridesmaid roses.

BRIDES AND BRIDEGROOMS
AT WASHINGTON WEDDINGS

MR. AND MRS. HENRY A. WORKS.

while on the other side, cruised a great deal on the steam yacht Nahma, with Mrs. Robert Goebel and her charming son "Bobby" Goebel, who is one of the most eligible men in Newport, and who was at one time very devoted to Miss Gladys.

He has good looks, is immensely wealthy, and plays polo, tennis, golf, and other outdoor games like a veteran. He rides and drives well, motor carefully and is a master of several languages. Miss Vanderbilt also drives and rides well, and possesses a wonderful soprano voice which has been cultivated for several years by the best masters in Europe.

The marriage of Miss Mae A. Clancey and Walter A. Butler took place Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. Dr. Smyth officiating. Miss Katherine Butler served as the maid of honor, and the best man for Mr. Butler was Clinton Crouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler left Washington later in the afternoon for a Northern wedding trip. They will return the latter part of this month. Both Mr. and Mrs. Butler are well known in musical circles. Mr. Butler is the conductor of Butler's Orchestra, and for many years has been in the employ of the Knabe firm.

Commissioner Thavis, of the Jamestown Exposition, and Mrs. Thavis are at the New Willard this week.

Commissioner and Mrs. Macfarland have returned from a trip to Lake George, Montreal, Quebec, and Saguenay. They will spend the fall at Woodley Inn.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD NEWTON HOPEWELL.

J. Lester Brooks, brother of the bride, served as best man for Mr. Works. The ceremony was followed by a reception from 8:30 to 11 o'clock, and afterward Mr. and Mrs. Works left for their bridal trip. Mrs. Works wearing a modish tailored costume of blue broadcloth with a blue hat. They will be at home in the Sunnyside apartment house, 1429 W. street, after October 1.

Mrs. Brooks, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Works, mother of the bridegroom, assisted the bridal party in receiving the guests at the reception. Mrs. Brooks wore a modish gown of gray crepe de chine, and Mrs. Works a handsome costume of black lace.

Both bride and bridegroom are well known in Washington, and have a large circle of friends. They are both graduates of the Washington Business High School, the bridegroom with the class of 1904, and the bride with the class of 1906. Mr. Works is connected with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Rev. William J. Cox, assistant rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, will be married this evening to Miss Helen Maria Bigelow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Bigelow, in Truro, Nova Scotia, the home of the bride's parents, and the former home of the bridegroom.

The ceremony will be a double one, the bride's sister, Miss Sara Hermione Bigelow, and Frederick L. Schwartz, of Moncton, New Brunswick, being the other bride and bridegroom, and will be performed at 8 o'clock this evening in St. John's Episcopal Church. A reception will follow in the home of the bride's parents, "Londale."

The bride and bridegroom will be at home after November 15 in the "Londale," where they have leased an apartment. The Rev. Mr. Cox has been connected with St. Thomas Church for about three years and has made scores of friends. The bride has been for some time connected with the Episcopal Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital and has also made hosts of friends. The romance had its beginning in the former home of the bride and bridegroom, where they were friends before either came to Washington.

The engagement was not previously announced and the wedding will cause some surprise even in church circles.

Miss Marcelle Claudia Smith, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. Ernest Smith, whose engagement to George Francis Forbes was recently announced, spent the last week-end with Miss Crenshaw, of Sixteenth street. The wedding day of Miss Smith and Mr. Forbes has not been announced, but it is expected they will be married during the fall.

Mrs. Cassie Tyler Armstrong, whose serious illness has been the cause of much anxiety among an extended circle of warm friends, was removed from her apartments at the Ontario, last week to Atlantic City, accompanied by her father, Colonel Tyler, her sister, Mrs. Marshall, of Warrenton, Va., and a trained nurse. There is a slight improvement in her condition.

Miss Vanderbilt to Return.

Everything is ready for the reception of Mrs. Vanderbilt and her daughter, Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, at the Breakers, the largest and handsomest home in Newport, which is open this fall, after being closed last season.

Dr. Liebig, the famous German Chemist, says that beer is "liquid bread." By this he means that beer is a food—full of life-giving, health-sustaining qualities.

The value of beer as a food is becoming well known, and it is now used by many who have hitherto looked upon it as a beverage only.

Pabst
Blue Ribbon

The Beer of Quality

is the most nourishing of all beers—because it contains every particle of the healthful, wholesome nutriment of the malt and all the tonic properties of the hops from which it is made.

The Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process follows nature by slowly transforming the substance of the barley into pure, nutritious food. The quality of the materials used and the Pabst method of brewing make Pabst Blue Ribbon not only a pure beer, but a healthful, tissue-building, muscle-building, life-giving, "liquid bread." Drink Pabst Blue Ribbon, and you put health and strength into your system.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.

Composer Weds
Leading Player
Of Orchestra

A wedding of much interest in musical circles which united the concert master of the Rebew Orchestra, Edward Newton Hopewell, with one of his leading violinists, Miss Grace May Wilson, took place this morning. The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock by the Rev. George C. Bacon, pastor of Douglas Memorial Church, in the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Carter Wilson, 27 F. street northeast.

The bride wore a dainty gown of white silk mull and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's sister, Mrs. W. F. Elliot, was matron of honor. She wore plain silk mull and carried La France roses. W. F. Elliot was the best man.

Breakfast After Ceremony.

The bride and bridegroom stood in a bower of palms, plants, and pink blossoms. A breakfast followed the ceremony. The guests were limited to the families of the bride and bridegroom, and a few very intimate friends, owing to the very recent death of a member of the latter's family. Mr. Hopewell and his bride left on an afternoon train for a trip North. They will be at home after October 1, in the Lavinia, 815 F. street northeast. The bridegroom, formerly of Edinburg, Va., is now engaged in the practice of law. He is a graduate of the Georgetown Law School, of the 1906 class. He was president of his second year class.

Bridegroom a Composer.

He is a violinist and a composer, several of his numbers appearing on the programs of prominent bands and orchestras. The bride was a member of the 1901 graduating class of the Business High School, and is an excellent musician, being a pianist and one of the leading lady violinists of the Rebew Orchestra.

A selected program of music was played by W. J. Weber before the ceremony. The present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Hopewell, of Edinburg, Va., parents of the bridegroom; Dr. Hopewell, of Edinburg, Va., brother of the bridegroom; Miss May Hopewell, of Roanoke, Va., and Miss Agnes Hopewell, of Washington, sisters of the bridegroom; Mrs. B. J. Comer and Mrs. S. S. Osborne, aunts of the bridegroom; Miss Helen Wilson, sister of the bride, and Miss Lettie Yarnall, of Phoenixville, Pa.
